Conversation on Diversity

Contemporary Issues in Indian Country
Facilitated by Lisa Quinn, Counseling and Wellness

Wednesday, April 11
NOON-1:00 PM
BMU 210

Using video clips as illustration, Dr. Quinn will discuss cultural identity issues that have resulted from a legacy of government colonization and termination policies against all Native peoples. Cultural identity will be examined in the context of intergenerational grief and shame associated with forced assimilation and loss of language, land, and tradition. Sherman Alexie’s novels are referenced as illustrations of how humor is used in Indian Country to deal in a light way with serious issues.
