Conversations on Diversity

What does a commitment to diversity look like in our organizations?

Wednesday, November 17
Noon -1pm
BMU 210

Earlier Conversations on Diversity in the fall 2010 semester addressed systemic and institutionalized inequality, racism and intolerance. This Conversation is about campus and community organizations that have made a commitment to challenging hurtful practices and embracing inclusiveness and diversity. Not easy! We will hear from these groups and learn how we can support them, or how we may already be supporting them and not realize it.
