Faculty Development invites faculty to submit applications to participate in the Quality Assurance/Quality Learning & Teaching Program, which is partially funded through the Chancellor’s Office. This Faculty Learning Community (FLC) will run the entire 2018-19 academic year.

Who: All faculty of any rank in any discipline including lecturers may apply as long as they have not already completed a QLT training before. Faculty may apply individually or as part of a team (re)designing a single course or related courses. An eligible course for redesign in this FLC is any course that is currently taught online or a course that is planned to be offered online (fully or partially). Online course formats include, but are not limited to: flipped (lectures are posted online while in-class time is devoted to exercises, projects, or discussions), hybrid (some traditional face-to-face "seat time" has been replaced by online learning activities), or fully online (no in-person meetings). Participating faculty will receive $1,200 in taxable income. Funding is disbursed throughout the year and depends on the following specific deliverables:

$200: completing the Q1 online course (July 9-29, 2018. Estimated time commitment: 20-25 hours)
$500: Attending the FLC in Fall 2018
$400: Attending the FLC in Spring 2019 and meeting the Core standards of the QLT instrument (highlighted in yellow)
$100: submitting evidence of your course redesign to the CSU Quality Assurance Resource Repository (Quarry)

Deliverables also include a detailed assessment plan.

What: This FLC involves active work, sharing of progress, mutual accountability, and time commitment.

When: The FLC will meet on the following Fridays from 11am-1pm during 2018-19 academic year. Attendance is expected for all FLC members. Fall 2018: September 7 and 21, October 5 and 19, November 2 and 30, and December 7. Spring 2018: March 8, April 19, April 26 (Spring meetings are more flexible and can be rescheduled based on faculty availability).

Where: This FLC will meet in person. Location MLIB 252.

How: Complete the application found here by Friday, May 25, 2018. Applications will be reviewed by a subcommittee of the Faculty Development advisory board. Selection will be based on the following criteria: impact on students (bottleneck course, number of students served), impact on instructor, quality of rationale, ability to attend the FLC meetings, ability to attend and complete the online course, and diversity of disciplines.
