Gateway Science Museum is pleased to be hosting a Gateway Hour of Code event. This a unique 1.5 hour introduction to software development, designed to demystify code and show that learning the basics is easy! Participants will explore how to write code through a series of fun and creative challenges while discovering how coding is a tool that is used in real-world science applications for the creation of simulations and modeling.

WHAT IS HOUR OF CODE?

The Hour of Code is global movement reaching tens of millions of students in 180+ countries. The Hour of Code is organized by Code.org, a public non-profit dedicated to expanding participation in computer science by making it available in more schools, and increasing participation by women and other underrepresented groups.
