CAMPUS INTERNATIONALIZATION

- ME: Multicultural Echoes, a literary magazine from the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, published its first issue last week. These are literary works from CSUC students and faculty in all of the languages we teach, including English. You can support this effort by buying a copy of ME. Link to the table of contents here. You can purchase the magazine for $10 by contacting Char Prieto @ cprieto@csuchico.edu X 4608 or Raquel Mattson in FLGN or @ rmattson@live.com.

OPPORTUNITIES

- Team Teaching Opportunity: Global Health, Mark Tomita, Department of Health and Community Services, is looking for faculty to team teach a Global Health Course in Spring 2010. He says: Each participating faculty would teach their area of strength, one night, three-hour block, one lecture. This will have to be a guest lecture/overload for all of us. I am interested in hearing from faculty who may be interested in teaching one night. I need name, department, subject to be listed in syllabus. Then, I can circulate a tentative syllabus, and we can decide on what reading materials will be needed for the course, how to evaluate learning for that lecture, etc. For more information, contact Dr. Tomita.

The Global Connections Newsletter is issued twice-monthly by the School of Graduate, International, and Interdisciplinary Studies to keep the campus apprised of international activities and opportunities. To unsubscribe visit www.csuchico.edu/global/resources/unsubscribe.shtml. To submit an announcement, email 100 words or less to kpunteney@csuchico.edu by the 1st or 15th of each month.
