CAMPUS INTERNATIONALIZATION

- May 13: Reception Honoring Dean Susan Place, This summer, Susan will return to the teaching faculty after five years as Dean and three years as Associate Dean of the School of Graduate, International, and Interdisciplinary Studies. During these years, she has been a passionate advocate supporting the expansion of area studies, study abroad, international students, and the campus internationalization initiative. Please join us at a reception in her honor. Refreshments will be provided. Everyone is welcome. 4:30-5:30pm, Trinity 100.

OPPORTUNITIES

- Team Teaching Opportunity: Global Health, Mark Tomita, Department of Health and Community Services, is looking for faculty to team teach a Global Health Course in Spring 2010. He says: Each participating faculty would teach their area of strength, one night, three-hour block, one lecture. This will have to be a guest lecture/overload for all of us. I am interested in hearing from faculty who may be interested in teaching one night. I need name, department, subject to be listed in syllabus. Then, I can circulate a tentative syllabus, and we can decide on what reading materials will be needed for the course, how to evaluate learning for that lecture, etc. For more information, contact Dr. Tomita.

The Global Connections Newsletter is issued twice-monthly by the School of Graduate, International, and Interdisciplinary Studies to keep the campus apprised of international activities and opportunities.
