ACADEMIC STANDING PROCEDURES FOR POSTBACCALAUREATE STUDENTS

Academic Probation and Disqualification
You will be placed on academic probation for any semester of enrollment in which either your postbaccalaureate CSU, Chico grade point average (GPA) or cumulative grade point average (which includes all transferred work) falls below 2.0. While on academic probation, you will become subject to academic disqualification if either your postbaccalaureate Chico or cumulative GPAs remains below 2.0 at the end of a semester of coursework enrollment. If disqualified, you will not be allowed to continue in the University for at least a semester and must successfully petition for reinstatement and be readmitted to the University to return. As a disqualified student you may take Special Session courses through the Center for Regional and Continuing Education or enroll in coursework through Open University with the permission of the instructor, department chair, and Office of Graduate Studies for each course taken.

You may also become subject to academic disqualification while not on academic probation if your cumulative GPA falls below 1.0 and the cumulative GPA is so low that in view of your overall educational record, it seems unlikely that the deficiency will be removed within a reasonable period.

Reinstatement and Readmission
When you have significantly raised your postbaccalaureate GPAs and established your ability to academically succeed, you may petition for reinstatement and apply for readmission to your academic objective. Both your petition for reinstatement and your application for readmission need to be submitted by the deadlines published in the University Academic Calendar for the semester that you are seeking to return. An academic status committee organized by the Office of Graduate Studies will review your petition and record, and make a decision concerning reinstatement. You must also be readmitted to the University.
