NOTE: In AY 2016-17, the Media Arts, Design, and Technology (MADT) Department piloted an all-online SET administration to see if they can improve their online SET response rates. The MADT online SET response rates were 32% in Fall 2015 and 22% in Spring 2016. Their 2016-17 experience shows that when administering online SETs just like paper SETs (get students to complete online SET forms during a regularly scheduled class meeting) the average response rate was 79% - this is higher than the University average of 71% for online SETs. The MADT overall SET response rates for 2016-17 was 62.64% - this is more than double their overall SET response rates from the previous academic year.
