MA in Ethnic Studies- SF State University

Graduate Coordinator: Katynka Martinez / 415-338-1693

Program Scope: The Master of Arts in Ethnic Studies is collectively administered by the College of Ethnic Studies at-large. Departments within the College include: Race and Resistance Studies, Africana Studies, American Indian Studies, Asian American Studies, and Latina/Latino Studies. College of Ethnic Studies faculty critically utilize and analyze the theoretical, methodological, and conceptual tools of several disciplines including but not limited to sociology, psychology, education, communication, mixed race studies, diaspora studies, and sexuality studies. The program is designed to prepare students for doctoral programs, research, teaching, and administration within both the public and private sectors. Both scholarly and activist engagements within the surrounding San Francisco Bay Area communities of color are encouraged and expected.

The Master of Arts Program in Ethnic Studies is an opportunity to engage in interdisciplinary graduate research that empowers students to continue their commitment to social justice through both scholarship and community engagement.
