Full-time, Visiting Professor / Acting DPD Director in the Department of Nutrition and Food Science

The Position: The Department of Nutrition and Food Science is searching for a Full-time, academic-year Visiting Professor in Dietetics and Acting Director of the Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD) to start in August 2017. CSU, Chico seeks an individual who is competent in their field of study, collaborative with colleagues and staff, and committed to success of a diverse student population.

Minimum Qualifications: The minimum requirements for appointment to this position are a master’s degree in Nutrition or related field, the Registered Dietitian Nutritionist (RDN) credential, and a minimum of three years professional experience post credentialing.

Preferred Qualifications: Doctoral degree in Nutrition or related field, teaching experience, mentoring experience.

We anticipate that we will search for a doctoral trained full-time tenure-track professor/DPD Director, to start in August 2018. A successful applicant to this position would be eligible to apply.

Responsibilities: The Department seeks an Acting Director for the undergraduate DPD. Two course release from the standard teaching load will be given in the fall semester and one course release time will be given in the spring semester to perform the duties associated with this position. Teaching assignments are based upon the qualifications of the individual and needs of the department.

The successful candidate must demonstrate the following:

- Evidence of, or potential for, effective undergraduate teaching and teaching experience using a variety of techniques.
- Commitment to and/or experience promoting and fostering a learning environment that is supportive of individuals from diverse backgrounds.

Professional Duties: performing all the duties associated with the Director of the DPD, teaching undergraduate courses in Dietetics and general education based on the expertise of the individual and needs of the Department, mentoring and advising students in the DPD program, maintaining office hours, attending Department meetings, and working collaboratively and productively with colleagues.

Salary: Salary commensurate with education and experience.

Apply at: http://jobs.csuchico.edu/postings/4269

EO/M/F/Vet/Dis Employer

Review of applications will begin on June 3, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.