Massey University offers over 200 academic programs with approximately 33,000 students across three campuses on New Zealand’s North Island. A large number of clubs and recreational opportunities provide students an excellent chance to become integrated into the local culture. Papers (courses) are offered on a semester system that follows the calendar year (February - November).

In addition, New Zealand’s geographic diversity and natural beauty make it the perfect destination for outdoor adventurers.

* Final acceptance is based on host university approval.
