Faculty Symposium

Using Technologies in the Classroom: a broad conversation

Moderators in Open Discussion:

Claudine Franquet, TLP Consultant
Jan Costenbader, MATH and ATEC

Where and When:

Studio A, basement of Meriam Library
Friday, November 14, 2008 from 12 noon to 2 p.m.

These topics will be covered over lunch:

- How do faculty manage students using so many different technology devices: cell phones, MP3 players, iPods, laptops, or others?
- What is the place for these in teaching and learning?
- How do some faculty utilize devices such as “Clickers” or Student Response Systems to engage students in the classroom (or at a distance)?
- What classroom management skills do faculty need to keep control and order when students bring technology into the classroom?
- How does this affect seat time and effective classroom instruction?
