Faculty Symposium
Create Web-based Course Content without Creating Additional Stress

Speakers
Jon Knolle, CDES & MGMT
Amber Evans, Distributed Learning Technologies

Who should attend this session?
Instructors teaching multiple sections of the same course, instructors teaching large lecture courses, and instructors interested in enhancing their Web-based courses.

Six SIMPLE ways faculty can use HorizonLive to create effective Web-based course content and interactions without creating additional stress.

1. Pre-recorded lectures
2. Mini-lectureettes
3. Archived demonstrations
4. Online office hours & help sessions
5. Student discussions / study groups / collaboration
6. Virtual guest speakers
