Students should be able to:

1. Describe the four stages of the creative process.
2. Describe and contrast Pylyshyn and Kosslyn’s theories of the way mental images are constructed and held in memory.
3. Describe the evidence for Kosslyn’s theory—both pro and con.
4. Explain the way images are constructed and deployed according to activity theory.