Assistant Professor in Communication Sciences and Disorders
Department of Communication Arts and Sciences

California State University, Chico is committed to achieving the goals of equal opportunity and endeavors to employ faculty and staff of the highest quality reflecting the ethnic and cultural diversity of the state. We are committed to achieving excellence through diversity in the classroom and the workplace. We strive to establish a climate that welcomes, celebrates, and promotes respect for the contributions of all students, faculty, and staff.

The Position: The Department of Communication Arts and Sciences at California State University, Chico announces a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor beginning August 2016. Position contingent on funding.

Minimum Qualifications: Earned doctorate in Speech-language Pathology or Communication Sciences and Disorders or related discipline (by 7/2016) and Certificate of Clinical Competence (CCC)-SLP. Eligibility for California licensure required.

Preferred Qualifications: Teaching emphasis in speech and hearing sciences and experience working with adult and medically-based populations. Applicants with other areas of expertise will be considered. American Sign Language skills desired. Experience working with diverse populations. Demonstrated potential for scholarship required. Potential for teaching excellence expected.

Responsibilities: This tenure-track position carries responsibilities in the areas of undergraduate and graduate teaching, clinical instruction, research, student advising and mentoring, and service to department and university. Teaching assignments may include courses in speech and hearing sciences, research methods, audiology, as well as others as determined by the needs of the program. Research and grant writing is expected. Opportunities for thesis direction are available.

Salary: Salary is competitive and dependent upon qualifications. An attractive benefits package is available.

The Department: The Communication Sciences and Disorders Program (CMSD) is in the Department of Communication Arts and Sciences, one of seven departments in the College of Communication and Education. ASHA’s Council on Academic Accreditation accredits the program. In the CMSD program there are five tenure/tenure track faculty as well as several part-time faculty for approximately 160 undergraduate and 45 graduate students. The program’s emphasis is primarily directed toward producing the finest clinicians of speech-language pathology. Job placement has been consistently 100% over the past decade. Our respected position in the community and Northern California contributes to excellent internship opportunities for students. Please go to the website for more information about the CMSD program and a copy of this announcement.

Closing Date: Review begins December 1, 2015 and will continue until position is filled.

How to Apply: All applicants must apply online at: http://jobs.csuchico.edu/postings/3186

For questions regarding the position and for letter of reference submissions please contact Dr. Suzanne Miller, Search Committee Chair, at sbmiller@csuchico.edu.

An annual security report disclosing crime statistics for California State University, Chico can be obtained by contacting the Chico State University Police Department (530-898-5555) or by accessing the following website: http://www.csuchico.edu/up/clery_report.shtml

For disability related accommodations please call ADA Coordinator at (530) 898-5959.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.
CSU, Chico is an EOE/Minority/Females/Vet/Disability and only employs individuals authorized to work in the U.S. We also do not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, color, ancestry, age, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, medical condition, National origin, sex, sexual orientation, covered veteran status, or any other protected status.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.