Chico State Celebrates Asian Pacific American Heritage Month

Congratulations to the Class of 2010!

Who was Harvey Milk?
Harvey Milk was an American politician who became the first openly gay man to be elected to public office in California when he won a seat on the San Francisco Board of Supervisors. Politics and gay activism were not his early interests; he was not open about his sexuality and did not participate in civic matters until he was about 40, after his experiences in the counterculture of the 1960s. In 1972 Milk moved from New York to The Castro District in San Francisco. Milk served 11 months in office and was responsible for passing a stringent of gay rights ordinances for the city of San Francisco. On November 27, 1978 Milk and Mayor George Moscone were assassinated by Daniel White, another city supervisor.
