Dear Dr. Huang,

Enclosed is the report concerning the review of your specialist program by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP). Reviewers with training in the application of the NASP Standards for Graduate Preparation of School Psychologists evaluated your submission followed by review of the site visit team in Spring 2023. The materials were carefully analyzed for evidence of program compliance with NASP standards. The NASP Program Accreditation Board then considered all evaluations and comments.

It was the decision of the Program Accreditation Board to grant NASP Accreditation-Full to your program for the period of August 1, 2023 through August 1, 2030. Congratulations! Your program's next submission is scheduled by Fall 2029 with a site visit in Spring 2030.

An official list of NASP-Accredited Programs is published on the NASP website. Your program will be included in that list. Candidates who graduate from your program while it holds NASP-accredited status are automatically eligible for the National Certificate in School Psychology (NCSP), pending the attainment of a passing score on the Praxis II Examination in School Psychology and documentation of an internship consistent with NASP standards.

A full submission will be required for your next program review using the NASP Standards for Graduate Preparation of School Psychologists and according to the instructions and deadlines located on the NASP website at <https://www.nasponline.org/standards-and-certification/graduate-program-approval-and-accreditation>.

Your next submission for NASP accreditation will continue to require that you use the NASP online process. We encourage you to visit our website often to review any updates about the online submission requirements, as well as procedures for program assessment of candidates and other program activities that will be needed for an online submission.

Your next NASP program review will require that you provide evidence that your program meets the most current NASP standards. In the next year, we encourage you to check our website often for information concerning the revision of the NASP standards, so that you may begin any needed program modifications to meet the new standards. In addition, the NASP Program Accreditation Board continues to provide training to graduate programs at the NASP convention. We encourage your program to attend the sessions provided to all programs.

On behalf of the Program Accreditation Board, and the National Association of School Psychologists, I wish to congratulate you and your colleagues on your efforts to develop a strong program. We hope the information we have provided will be of assistance in your continuing efforts to advance your program. If the Board can be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
