

Dear Javier,

Thank you for the offer of a position as a Sales Recruiter with Excel Corporation. After extensively considering my job offers, I have chosen to accept a position with another company. It was a difficult decision because I think very highly of your organization and your opportunity, but location was the deciding factor.

Thanks again for your consideration and the opportunity.

Sincerely,

Ernie Interview