June is Pride Month: Explore the History of the LGBTQ+ Movement in America

- The uprising at the Stonewall Inn in June, 1969, sparked a liberation movement — a call to action that continues to inspire us to live up to our Nation’s promise of equality, liberty, and justice for all. Pride is a time to recall the trials the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer (LGBTQ+) community has endured and to rejoice in the triumphs of trailblazing individuals who have bravely fought — and continue to fight — for full equality. Pride is both a jubilant communal celebration of visibility and a personal celebration of self-worth and dignity.

The song “Immigrants (We Get The Job Done)” keeps the theme of power and strength, derived from a mixture of different colors and creeds coexisting in America. Its unique style stems from a diverse range of artists, like K’Naan (Somali-Canadian), Snow Tha Product (Mexican-American), Riz MC (British-Pakistani), and Residente (Puerto Rican) and gives more credibility to the idea that immigration was and continues to be a movement and the fabric of America.

Did you know...

The Forgotten History of Father’s Day

- Father’s Day was not immediately accepted when it was proposed, and it did not become a national holiday in the U.S. until 1972 during President Richard Nixon’s administration. Why was it a hotly contested debate? Read the forgotten history behind the day we celebrate our father figures.

Father’s Day around the world:

- In traditionally Catholic countries such as Spain and Portugal, Father’s Day is observed on March 19, the Feast of St. Joseph.
- The Taiwanese celebrate Father’s Day on August 8—the eighth day of the eighth month—because the Mandarin Chinese word for eight sounds like the word for “Papa.”
- In Thailand, Father’s Day is celebrated on former King Bhumibol Adulyadej’s birthday, December 5.
And a few jokes:

- What do you call a fish wearing a bowtie? Sofishticated!
- What did one wall say to the other? I'll meet you at the corner!
- What's the difference between a poorly dressed man on a tricycle and a well-dressed man on a bicycle? Attire!
- What is the tallest building in the world? The library—it's got the most stories.
