Significant Changes in Federal Uniform Guidance

Significant changes in Federal Uniform Guidance were recently announced by the Office of Management and Budget impacting multiple areas of grant administration and would be effective 10/1/24. In the interest of timely communication, CSE management is sharing the actual notification, however there are many details yet to be analyzed and their full impacts understood.

Looking toward the 10/1/24 implementation date, the Development Team will begin working with project directors to incorporate required changes into proposal budgets (for example, higher equipment and supplies thresholds and a change to the application of IDC to subawards). In the coming weeks CSE will provide project directors and staff with additional clarification of the important details. We understand these documents will raise many questions as they have for us, and we will be working as quickly as possible to address them with the appropriate federal agencies.
