Why is there a Hall of Honor?

Faculty and staff are the "face of the University" and make it all it is and has been. Faculty and staff who have made exceptional contributions to the university community deserve to be recognized for those efforts.

The Chico State Emeritus and Retired Faculty and Staff Association's (ERFSA) Hall of Honor (HOH) is an opportunity to recognize and honor our outstanding retired faculty and staff for their many contributions. There are numerous ways faculty and staff make a difference for students, including: helping the University accomplish its educational goals and mission, civic engagement, exemplary representatives of their profession, and providing high quality service to the greater community.
