Faculty Learning Community
Quality Learning and Teaching

Have a course in need of redesign?
Need help delivering online, flipped, or hybrid content to students?

Background: The Office of Faculty Development invites faculty to submit applications to participate in the Quality Assurance/Quality Learning & Teaching Program (QLT), which is partially funded through the Chancellor’s Office and will run the entire 2019-2020 academic year.

Who may apply: All faculty of any rank in any discipline, including lecturers, may apply as long as they have not already completed a QLT training. Faculty may apply individually or as part of a team (re)designing a single course or related courses.

Selection will be based on the following criteria: impact on students (bottleneck course, number of students served), impact on instructor, quality of rationale, ability to attend the FLC meetings, ability to attend and complete the online course, and diversity of disciplines.

FLC Requirements: This FLC involves active work, sharing of progress, mutual accountability, and time commitment. An eligible course for redesign in this FLC is any course that is currently taught online OR a course that is planned to be offered online (either fully or partially). Online course formats include, but are not limited to: flipped (lectures are posted online while in-class time is devoted to exercises, projects, or discussions), hybrid (some traditional face-to-face "seat time" has been replaced by online learning activities), or fully online (no in-person meetings). Attendance is expected for all FLC members.

This FLC will meet in person, in MLIB 252 on the following Fridays from 11:00 a.m. – 1:00 p.m. during the 2019-20 academic year.

- Fall 2019: September 6 and 20, October 4 and 18, November 1 and 29, and December 6.
- Spring 2020: March 6, April 24, May 1 (Spring meetings are more flexible and can be rescheduled based on faculty availability).

Payment: Pending Chancellor’s Office funding, participating faculty will receive $1,200 in taxable income. Funding will be disbursed throughout the year and depends on the following specific deliverables:

- $200: completing the Q1 online course (estimated time commitment is 20-25 hours during Summer 2019)
- $500: Attending the FLC in Fall 2019
- $400: Attending the FLC in Spring 2020 and meeting the Core 24 standards of the QLT instrument (highlighted in yellow)
- $100: submitting evidence of your course redesign to the Quality Assurance Resource Repository (QuARRy)
- Deliverables also include a detailed assessment plan.

How to apply: Complete the application by Sunday, May 5, 2019. Applications will be reviewed by a subcommittee of the Faculty Development Advisory Board.

Questions: Contact Chiara Ferrari, Professor of Media Arts, Design, and Technology, at cfferrari@csuchico.edu