

Spring 2014 Town Hall Meeting Policy Issues

Each of these broad policy areas has been selected as among the most important confronting our cities, states and country today. There are many different possible problems within each policy issue, and a wide range of possible policy solutions. We encourage you to think broadly, outside the box, and come up with innovative and unique problems and solutions. The ideal situation for a Town Hall breakout session is one where students are discussing a variety of problems and solutions within a policy area, and analyzing the policy issue from a multitude of perspectives.
