

Assessment Plan – Department of International Languages, Literatures, and Cultures BA in Asian Studies

SLO	2017-2018	2018-2019	2019-2020	2021-2022	2022-2023
SLO1. Students can identify factual knowledge of Asia in the following realms: cultural, religious, economic, political.		Student assignments will be collected from ASST 110 and ASST 490 and evaluated by program coordinator using an agreed upon rubric.
SLO 2. Students can compare the handling of a particular cultural, religious, economic, or political problem in one part of Asia to that of another part.			Student assignments collected in ASST 101, RELS 101, and ASST 490 will be evaluated by program coordinator according to standard rubric.
SLO 3. Students can deliver a clear, intelligent presentation in both spoken and written English.				Student assignments collected in ASST 101, RELS 101, and ASST 490 will be evaluated by program coordinator

SLO	2017-2018	2018-2019	2019-2020	2021-2022	2022-2023
				according to standard rubric.
SLO 4. Students can read basic text in an Asian language and respond orally and/or in writing to questions derived from that text.	Embedded assessments in JAPN 101, 202 and CHNS 101A, 202 will be analyzed and evaluated by ILLC faculty using a standard rubric.				Embedded assessments in JAPN 101, 202 and CHNS 101A, 202 will be analyzed and evaluated by ILLC faculty using a standard rubric.