SECTION I: INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to federal and state law¹, the California State Historical Resources Commission (SHRC) directs the State Historic Preservation Officer (SHPO) to maintain an inventory of historical resources in California. The SHPO meets this responsibility via the California Historical Resources Information System (CHRIS), which is administered by the Office of Historic Preservation (OHP) under SHPO authority. Historical resources information comprising the CHRIS Inventory is organized by county and managed by regional CHRIS Information Centers. The Information Centers house records, reports, maps, and other documents and materials relating to historical resources, and provide information and recommendations regarding such resources on a fee-for-service basis.

This Rules of Operation Manual (Manual), adopted by the SHRC on April 23, 2008, specifies types of CHRIS information and rules of operation for the CHRIS and its constituent Information Centers with respect to access to information, processing of historical resources records and reports, records searches, listing of historical resources consultants, service fees, hours, and restrictions on activities of Information Center personnel as related to the CHRIS. The Manual supercedes the previous California Historical Resources Information System Information Center Procedural Manual (OHP 1995) and reflects several years of consultation between Information Center Coordinators and their staffs, the OHP, and the SHRC Information Center Procedural Advisory Committee conducted in an ongoing effort to refine the CHRIS and its role in the protection and preservation of historical resources, addressing growing demands upon the CHRIS, management responsibilities of government agencies, and the broad array of concerns inherent to Native American communities, archaeologists, historians, architectural historians, land-use planners, commercial developers, and the public. A forthcoming amendment to the Manual will specify complementary rules of operation governing the use and management of CHRIS information in electronic (digital) format.

SECTION II: TYPES OF CHRIS INFORMATION

The CHRIS maintains a wide range of documents and materials relating to historical resources. As used herein, "historical resources" comprise buildings, structures, objects, sites, landscapes, districts, and all manner of properties associated with past human activities. Historical resources in the CHRIS Inventory include those that have and those that have not undergone formal evaluation by federal, state, or local government agencies with respect to their historical significance². Pursuant to federal and state law³, information within the CHRIS pertaining to historical resources of an archaeological nature is managed as confidential, with access to and release of said information determined as specified in Section III of this Manual.

 - (d) Update Resource Database accordingly.
 - (3) If records are submitted that divide a previously recorded property into two or more separate properties:
 - (a) Maintain the previous Resource Record as a separate recording, and retain the Primary Number and Trinomial of the previously recorded property and its location and boundaries on the relevant Resource Location Map;
 - (b) Process and maintain the new records per Section IV(I)(1);
 - (c) Place a page referencing the Primary Numbers assigned to the new records at the front of the file containing the previous Resource Record;

SECTION VI: RECORDS SEARCHES

Records searches are the primary means through which CHRIS information is disseminated. A records search consists of a review of historical resources data on file at an Information Center regarding a specific geographic area. There are three categories of records searches: confidential; non-confidential; and as specified under a memorandum of agreement. Records searches may be conducted by Information Center staff or in person by an individual(s) who qualifies for access to CHRIS confidential information as specified in Section III of this Manual. Resource Location Maps and Report Location Maps maintained at an Information Center shall not be photocopied or photographed.

An individual wishing to conduct their own In-House Records Search shall make an appointment with the relevant Information Center no less than twenty-four (24) hours in advance. If the appointment cannot be kept, the Information Center shall be given at least twenty-four (24) hours notice or the individual may be subject to a cancellation fee as specified in Section VIII of this Manual.

Information Centers shall charge for records searches in accordance with the Service Fee Schedule specified in Section VIII of this Manual.

- (A) All records search requests shall be submitted in writing and include the following.

 - (3) A signed Access Agreement (see Appendix 4).
 - (4) A 1:1 facsimile (i.e., neither enlarged nor reduced) of that portion of the relevant USGS 7.5' topographic quadrangle on which:
 - (a) The name of the map is identified; and
 - (b) The boundaries of the records search area are clearly depicted.
- (B) A Confidential Records Search is available to individuals who qualify for access to all CHRIS information as specified in Section III of this Manual. All requests for this category of records search shall include a completed Confidential Records Search Request Form (see Appendix 5).
- (C) Non-confidential Records Searches conducted by Information Center staff provide results in checklist or narrative formats.

 - (b) Previous studies related to the records search area and their respective Report Numbers;
 - (c) An assessment of the potential presence of unknown historical resources within the records search area; and,
 - (d) Recommendations regarding the need for historical resource studies within the records search area.

- (2) A Non-Confidential Extended Records Search reports the following in narrative format:
- (a) Presence or absence of recorded historical resources within the records search area, and their Primary Number and Trinomial designations as applicable;
 - (b) Presence of known but as yet unrecorded historical resources within the records search area;
 - (c) Previous studies related to the records search area and their respective Report Numbers;
 - (d) A general description of known historical resources within the records search area;
 - (e) An assessment of the potential presence of as yet unrecorded historical resources within the records search area;
 - (f) A list of the additional sources of information consulted in this assessment; and
 - (g) Recommendations regarding the need for historical resource studies within the records search area.

- (D) Records searches may also be arranged under a memorandum of agreement between an Information Center and, as appropriate, local, state, or federal government agencies, federally recognized Native American tribes, or other interested parties and organizations. The OHP may be consulted in formulating such memoranda of agreement.

A records search conducted by an Information Center shall be completed within forty-five (45) calendar days of the request. The Information Center shall notify the individual requesting the records search and make appropriate arrangements if it is anticipated that the records search will require more than forty-five (45) calendar days to complete, exceed $1000.00 in total cost, or exceed the total fee limit indicated on the Confidential Records Search Request Form (Appendix 5).

Records searches shall be invoiced within forty-five (45) calendar days of completion. Payment for a records search is due within sixty (60) calendar days of billing date.

SECTION VII: HISTORICAL RESOURCES CONSULTANTS LIST

The CHRIS Coordinator shall designate one of the regional Information Centers to maintain a Historical Resources Consultants List and make it available to individuals, businesses, government agencies, and other parties and organizations seeking the services of a Historical Resources Consultant. This list consists of individuals who, based on the information provided with their Consultants List Applications, meet the minimum qualifications of a professional in the disciplines of Archaeology, Architectural History, Architecture, Historical Architecture, or History as defined in the Secretary of Interior's Standards (see Appendix 2), and who have requested to be included in the Consultants List. The Consultants List shall be organized alphabetically by county, discipline, and person or consulting firm, and contain the following disclaimer.

GLOSSARY

California Historical Resources Information System
Information Center Rules of Operation Manual

Archaeological Resources. As used in this Manual, term refers to historical properties recorded as comprising physical remains of past human activity and are included under the broader definition of historical resources. Pursuant to federal (National Historic Preservation Act, 16 U.S.C. 470w-3[a]) and state (California Government Code § 6254.10) law, information within the CHRIS pertaining to historical resources identified as of an archaeological nature is managed as confidential, with access to and release of said information determined as specified in Section III of this Manual.

California Historical Resource Status Code. Denotes the status of a historical resources property relative to evaluations of its historical significance. Codes indicate whether a property is listed in, has been determined eligible or ineligible for listing in, or appears eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places or California Register of Historical Resources, has been recognized as historically significant by a local government, has not been evaluated, or needs re-evaluation. Multiple codes may apply to a single property (see User's Guide to the California Historical Resource Status Codes & Historic Resources Inventory Directory [OHP 2004, Technical Assistance Bulletin #8]).

California Historical Resources Information System (CHRIS). A cooperative partnership between the SHRC, OHP, and regional CHRIS Information Centers, the CHRIS is the statewide organization for managing information related to historical resources in California. This information constitutes the CHRIS Inventory.

California Inventory of Historical Resources (OHP 1976). An OHP inventory of historical resources in California compiled in response to the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966. California State Points of Historical Interest (SPHI). A state historical resources registration program that provides recognition to historical resources significant at a county or regional level, but do not qualify for designation as California State Historical Landmarks (California Public Resources Code § 5021).

CHRIS. California Historical Resources Information System.

CHRIS Confidential Information. Historical resources information in the CHRIS Inventory pertaining to archaeological resources. Pursuant to federal (National Historic Preservation Act, 16 U.S.C. 470w-3[a]) and state (California Government Code § 6254.10) law, this information is managed as confidential. Rules governing access to and release of CHRIS Confidential Information are specified in Section III of this Manual.

CHRIS Coordinator. The OHP staff member(s) designated by the SHPO to coordinate activities of the CHRIS Information Centers.

CHRIS Information Center. Regional branch of the CHRIS. Manages the CHRIS Inventory with respect to specific counties and provides information and recommendations regarding historical resources on a fee-for-service basis. A Primary Number consists of the letter P (for Primary Number), the two-digit code for the relevant county (see Appendix 1 of this Manual), and a sequentially assigned six-digit number (e.g., P-33-000010 refers to the tenth Primary Number assigned in Riverside County).

Records Search. A review of historical resources information on file at a CHRIS Information Center regarding a specific geographic area. There are three categories of records searches: confidential; non-confidential; and as specified under a memorandum of agreement. Records searches may be conducted by Information Center staff or in person by an individual(s) who qualifies for access to CHRIS Confidential Information as specified in Section III of this Manual.

Region. As used in this Manual, term refers to the specific California county or counties for which a CHRIS Information Center serves as access to and manager of the CHRIS Inventory.

Report. A document, other than a Resource Record, pertaining to historical resources. Each Report in the CHRIS Inventory is assigned a unique Report Number by the relevant CHRIS Information Center.

Report Database. A bibliographic database of Reports in the CHRIS Inventory at a CHRIS Information Center and includes, as specified in Section V(D) of this Manual, such information as Report Number, author(s), year of publication, title, type of Report, Report Location Map(s), and Primary Numbers of historical resources addressed in a Report.

Report Location Map. A United States Geological Survey (USGS) 7.5' topographic quadrangle map on which the locations and boundaries of specific geographic areas investigated with regard to historical resources are delineated Report Number. A unique, alphameric, CHRIS designation for a Report. A Report Number consists of the two-letter code for the relevant county (see Appendix 1 of this Manual) and a sequentially assigned five-digit number (e.g., RI-00010 refers to the tenth Report Number assigned in Riverside County).

Resource Database. A database regarding historical resources in the CHRIS Inventory at a CHRIS Information Center and includes, as specified in Section IV(K) of this Manual, such information as Primary Number, Trinomial, other resource identifier(s), Resource Location Map(s), date(s) recorded, California Historical Resource Status Code, and associated Reports.

Resource Location Map. A United States Geological Survey (USGS) 7.5' topographic quadrangle map on which the locations and boundaries of recorded historical resources are delineated.

Resource Record. A series of recordation forms describing the location and content of a historical resources property. Each Resource Record in the CHRIS Inventory is assigned a unique Primary Number, and may also be assigned a unique Trinomial, by the relevant CHRIS Information Center.

SHPO. California State Historic Preservation Officer.

SHRC. California State Historical Resources Commission.

Trinomial. A unique, alphameric, CHRIS designation for a historical resources property recorded as an archaeological site. A Trinomial consists of the two-letter code CA (for California), the three-letter code for the relevant county (see Appendix 1), and a sequentially assigned number (e.g., CA-RIV-3 refers to the third Trinomial assigned in Riverside County). In addition, an Information Center may add a suffix that indicates the presence of "prehistoric" or "historical" materials at a recorded property. Use of this suffix shall be based solely on information provided in Section P6 of the Primary Record (523A), and does not confirm the actual presence of prehistoric or historical materials. The lack of a suffix shall indicate the presence of exclusively prehistoric materials; the suffix H shall indicate the presence of exclusively historical materials; and the suffix /H shall indicate the presence of prehistoric and historical materials. Subsequent recordation may change the suffix assigned.
