Rationale for Change (attach additional pages if needed):

The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice proposes to change the name of the Community Legal Information Center (CLIC) to the Community Legal Information Clinic. The name Community Legal Information Clinic is a more accurate description of CLIC. At CLIC, students earn academic credit through their work in a clinical law office setting. This proposal would change the name of CLIC so that it matches how department faculty already think and describe the academic instruction done in that space. In addition, law schools across the country house law clinics and call them clinics, not centers. Changing the word "Center" to "Clinic" would make the name better match the wording used in the field of law.
