

Apply for Financial Assistance to Plan, Design, and Implement On-Farm Conservation Practices!

Producers in the following counties are eligible: Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Lake, Solano, Yolo, Colusa, Sutter, Yuba, Glenn, Butte, Tehama, Shasta, Trinity, Siskiyou, Modoc, Lassen, Plumas

Are you a producer or landowner interested in improving your soil health, water use efficiency, drought resiliency and net profit?

Regional Conservation Partnership Program (RCPP) funding may be for you!

Funding is available for:

- Technical assistance to plan and design conservation practices
- Reimbursement for implementation of conservation practices

Projects that emphasize systems-based, holistic conservation planning with a focus on soil health will be prioritized.

Historically underserved applicants will also be given priority.

Eligible practices include but are not limited to:

Cover crops
Composting
Hedgerows
Conservation tillage
Adaptive grazing

Apply Now!

To apply:

Contact Lindsey Hethcote at The Center for Regenerative Agriculture and Resilient Systems at Chico State University:

lhethcote@csuchico.edu

Deadlines will be announced throughout the year.

Support is also available for applying to the CDFA Healthy Soils Program.

