2017-18 Statistical Review of Title IX Reporting Activity

In an effort to increase transparency regarding the manner in which our campus addresses reports of Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, and Stalking, and in compliance with Executive Order 1095, the below information attempts to summarize the activity occurring in response to reports of this nature during the 2017-18 fiscal year.¹ In producing this report, every effort is made to ensure the privacy of the individuals involved.

Over the past year, the Title IX unit responded in some fashion to every report that was received. The most common type of report was received from a third party, typically someone affiliated with the University with whom a student shared they had been the victim of either Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, or Stalking. The third party in turn made a report to the Title IX office, sharing the information received. When such a report was received, our first step was to ensure that the student was aware of the resources available, both on and off campus, and the various options they had for securing accommodations and/or pursuing the matter (criminal, civil, and/or administrative arenas). This included inviting the student to meet and further explore what, if anything, the student felt ready to do.

The below information focuses exclusively on the campus response to reports of specific instances of either Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, and Stalking, and is not intended to capture the many other efforts undertaken as part of our Title IX program.

Summary of Reports Received

Overall, during the 2017-18 fiscal year, there were 74 distinct reports regarding, Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, or Stalking that were reported to the Title IX office. This number represents a nearly 40% increase from the year prior. Included within those reports are the following:

- Thirty-two (32) Reports in which a student (or recently separated student) was the Respondent.²
- One (1) report in which an Employee was the Respondent

¹ The data included is based on the date the report was received, not the date of the incident reported. We have included reports received between July 1, 2017 and June 30, 2018.

² “Respondent” means the CSU, a CSU Employee, another Student, or a Third Party who is alleged to have violated this Executive Order.

- Forty-one (41) reports in which the Respondent was either not affiliated with the campus, or there was insufficient information known as to whether or not the Respondent was affiliated with the campus.
- Eleven (11) formal investigations concerning Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, or Stalking were initiated.
 - o Three (3) of the six (6) investigations initiated and completed in this academic year found there was a policy violation. There are five (5) investigations pending.

There were four (4) matters that were initially reported and investigated during the 16-17 year, and for which final action occurred during the 17-18 fiscal year. These matters, and the final actions taken, are described in the table directly below, followed by a table with the investigations initiated in the 17-18 academic year and how they were concluded.

Early Resolutions in 2017-18

Early resolution can be an effective way to resolve matters through agreement of the parties. Incidents like Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, or Stalking, are often matters for which Early Resolution may not be appropriate. However, we were able to resolve a few matters by securing agreements from the parties involved to impose certain conditions.

	TYPE OF COMPLAINT	DESCRIPTION	UNIVERSITY RESPONSE OR OUTCOME
1	Stalking	Report of student stalked by another student.	Resources provided. Matter resolved through Early Resolution by institution of no contact agreement.
2	Stalking	Report of student stalked by another student.	Resources and accommodations provided. Matter resolved through Early Resolution by institution of no contact agreement.

5	Stalking	Report of student stalked by another student.	Resources provided. Matter resolved through Early Resolution by institution of no contact agreement.

Matters for Which Formal Investigations were Not Initiated in 2017-18

In fiscal year 2017-18, we received 41 reports involving Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, and Stalking, where the potential Respondent was either not affiliated with the campus, or there was insufficient information known as to whether or not the Respondent was affiliated with the campus. As a result, formal investigations were not be conducted. In those instances, our focus was on providing resources and accommodations to the victims in order to support them and enable them to continue making progress on their education. Reports falling into this category are listed below. When reviewing the below it is helpful to keep in mind that we often receive reports from third parties of a student who was “sexually assaulted.” Unless we receive specific information indicating that the conduct meets either the definition of “Rape” or “Sexual Battery” we do not change the nature of the report received. However, it is fair to assume that a portion of the “Sexual Assault” reports are actually reports of Rape.

We received 16 reports of Sexual Misconduct, Dating or Domestic Violence, or Stalking where the Respondent was alleged to be affiliated with the campus, but that University did not initiate a formal investigation. In some instances, the identity of the alleged Respondent was known to the University. In such instances, where the identity of a Respondent is known but the victim has not chosen to pursue a formal investigation, the University must carefully balance competing concerns. The University always attempts to respect a victim's desire for confidentiality and choice in whether a formal campus investigation is initiated. The University will weigh those considerations when determining whether the present circumstances, including the seriousness of the allegations, the age of the victim(s), other complaints against the Respondent, and the risk to the campus community, warrant initiating an investigation despite a victim's wishes.

In others instances, the only information we had was that the potential Respondent was a "student." In such cases, the University provided resources and options to the potential Complainant, and then reviewed the information that was known at that time to determine what, if anything, the University could do. Reports falling into either of these categories are listed below.

Conclusion

The above report does not capture the whole picture as to how many incidents are taking place in our community, but rather is only representative of what gets reported to the Title IX office. This is the third straight year that we have seen an increase in reports made to our office concerning Sexual Misconduct, Dating and Domestic Violence, and Stalking, and we are heartened that more and more students, staff, and faculty, are using their voices to share their experiences, and seeking out resources.

Increased reporting highlights the importance of our office and campus partners’ efforts to bring awareness to the community on these matters, to build skills geared toward prevention, and to ensure that the resources available on campus are able to effectively serve those who seek our services.

Ultimately, our goals are to work towards a safer campus for everyone irrespective of sex, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression, to ensure awareness of the resources and options available to those who believe their rights have been violated, and to provide a fair process that respects the rights of all, and does so in a manner that is sensitive to the emotional cost for those involved.
